The Cottage on the Lawn.

As Sung by Mrs. Farrell with univerſal Applauſe

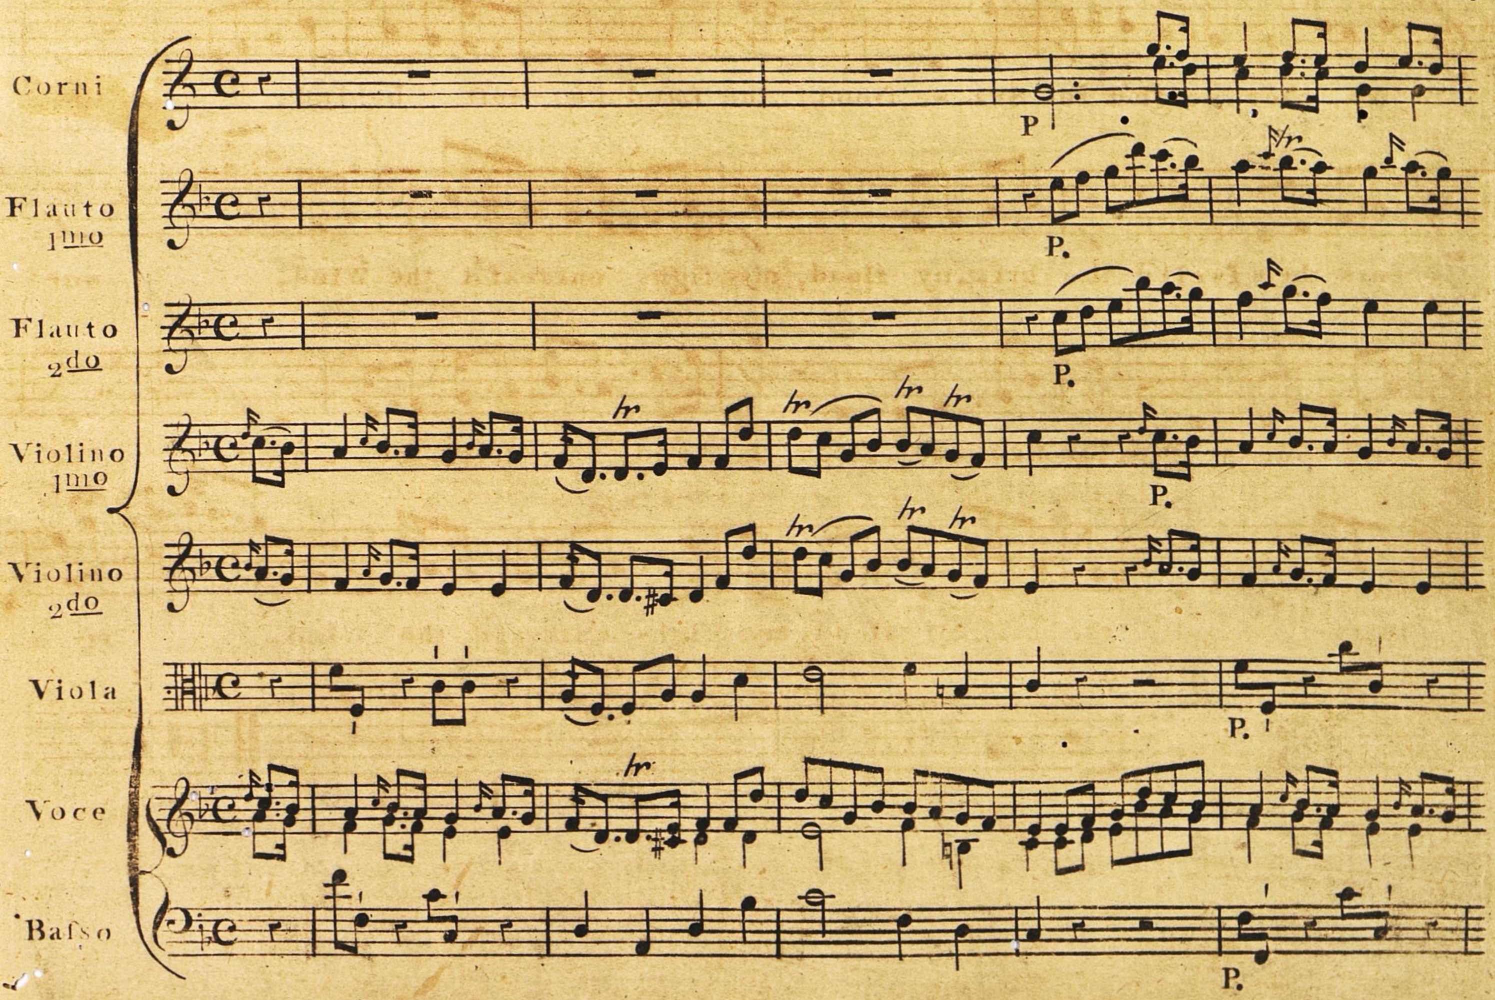
Compoſed by

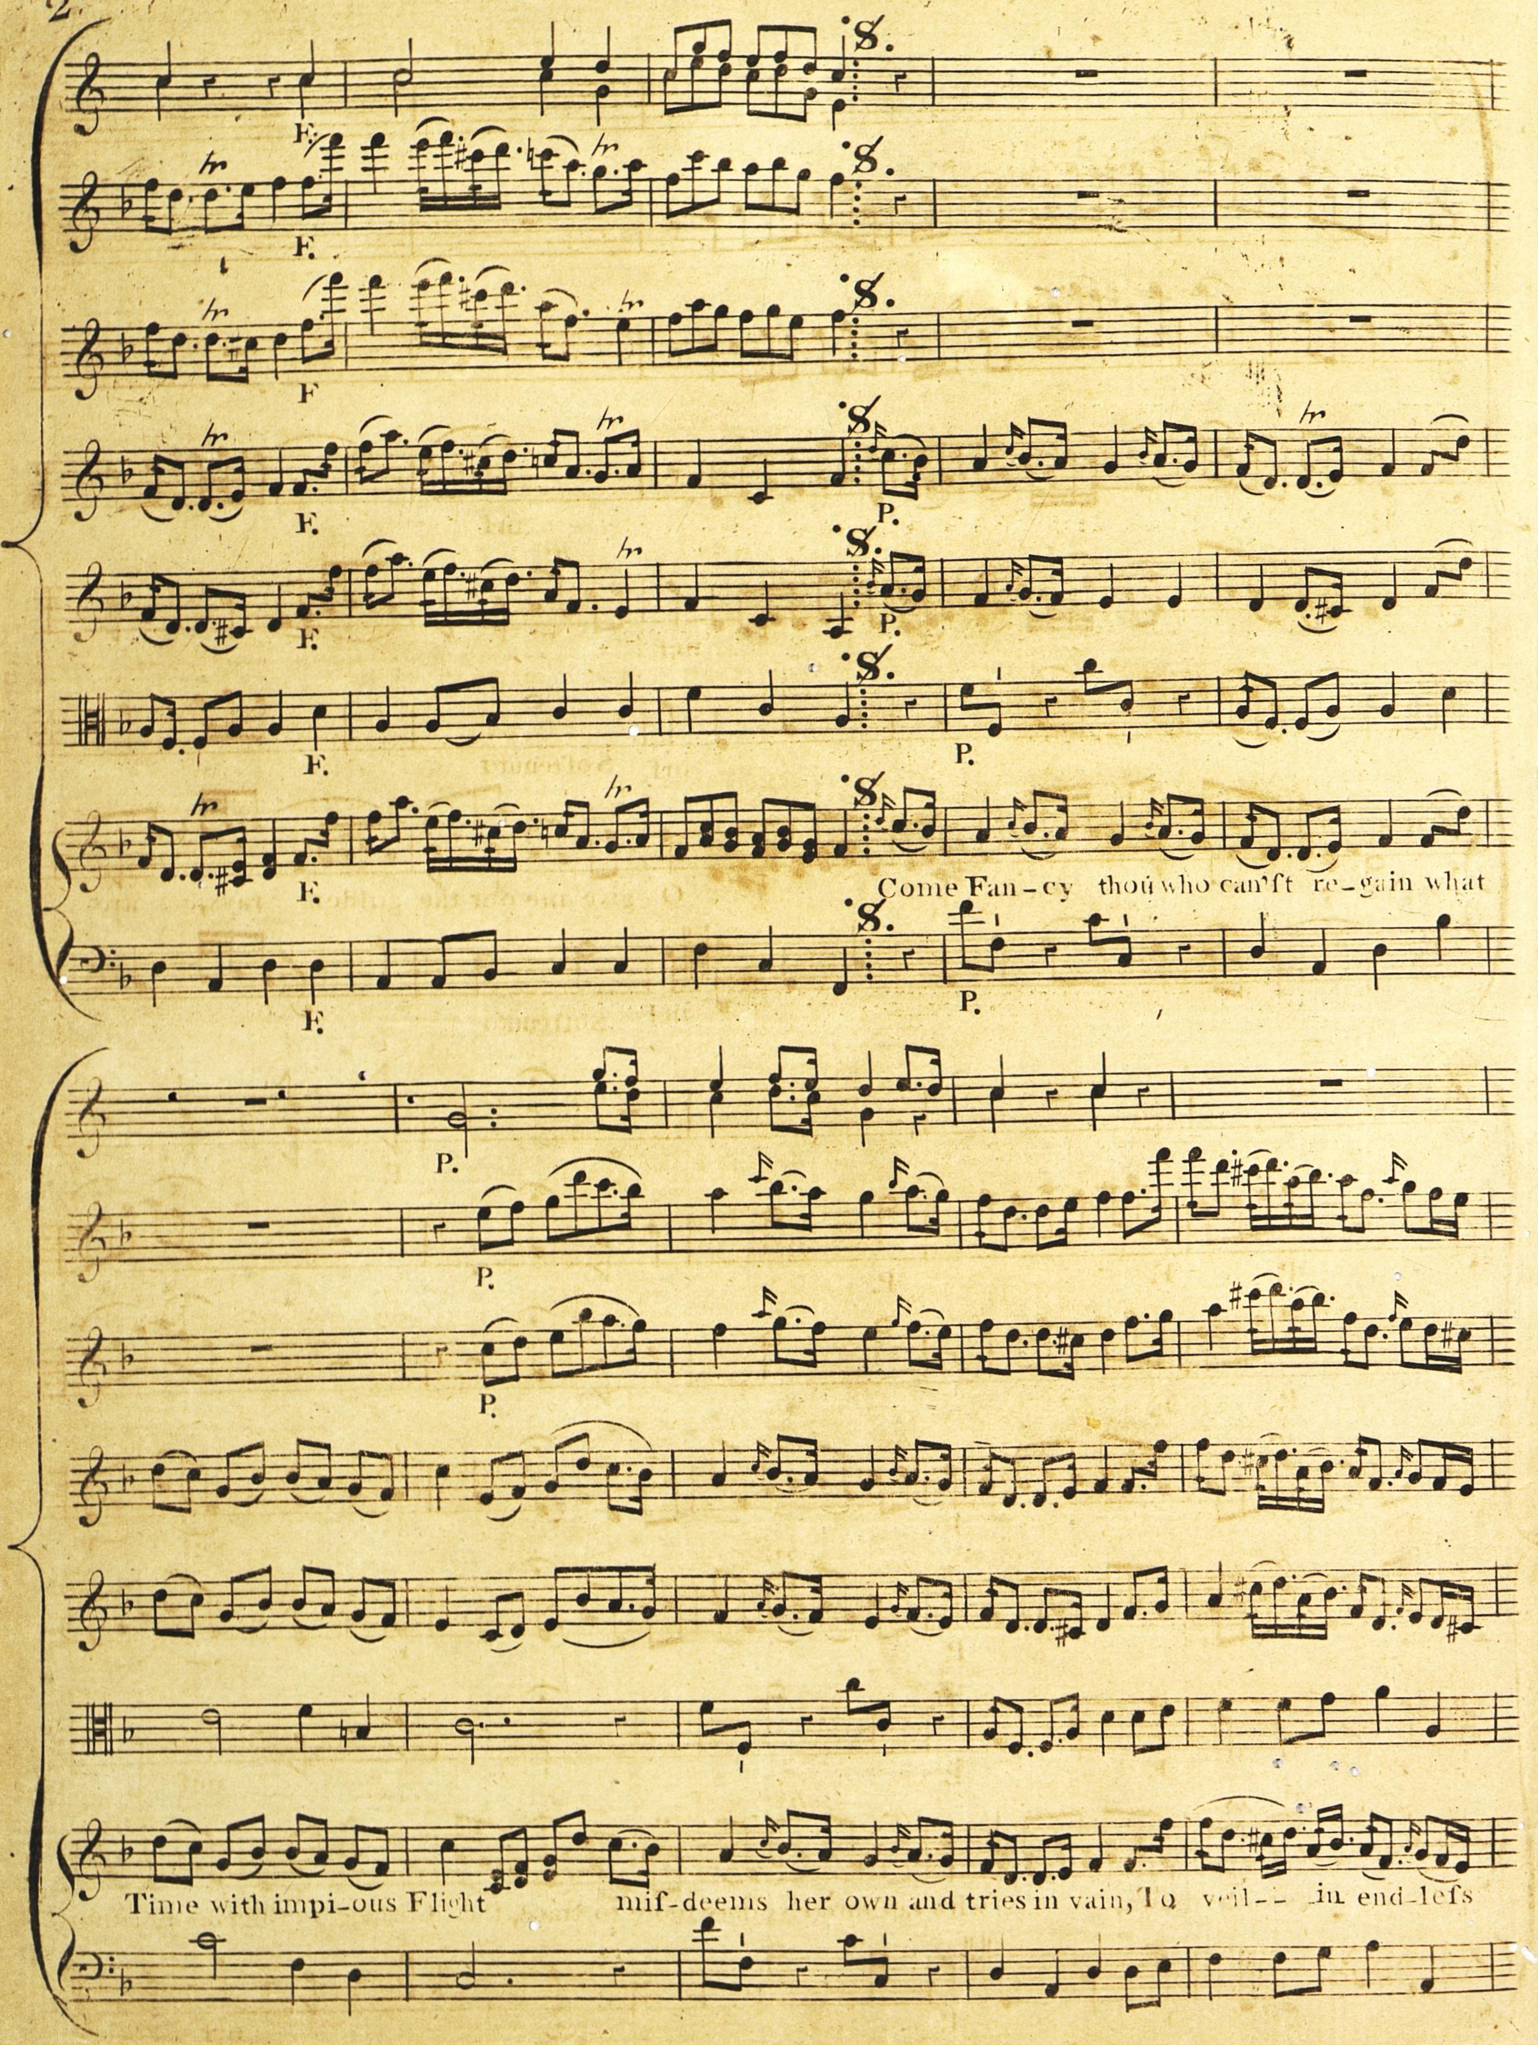
Mr. Michael Arne.

Price 1s.

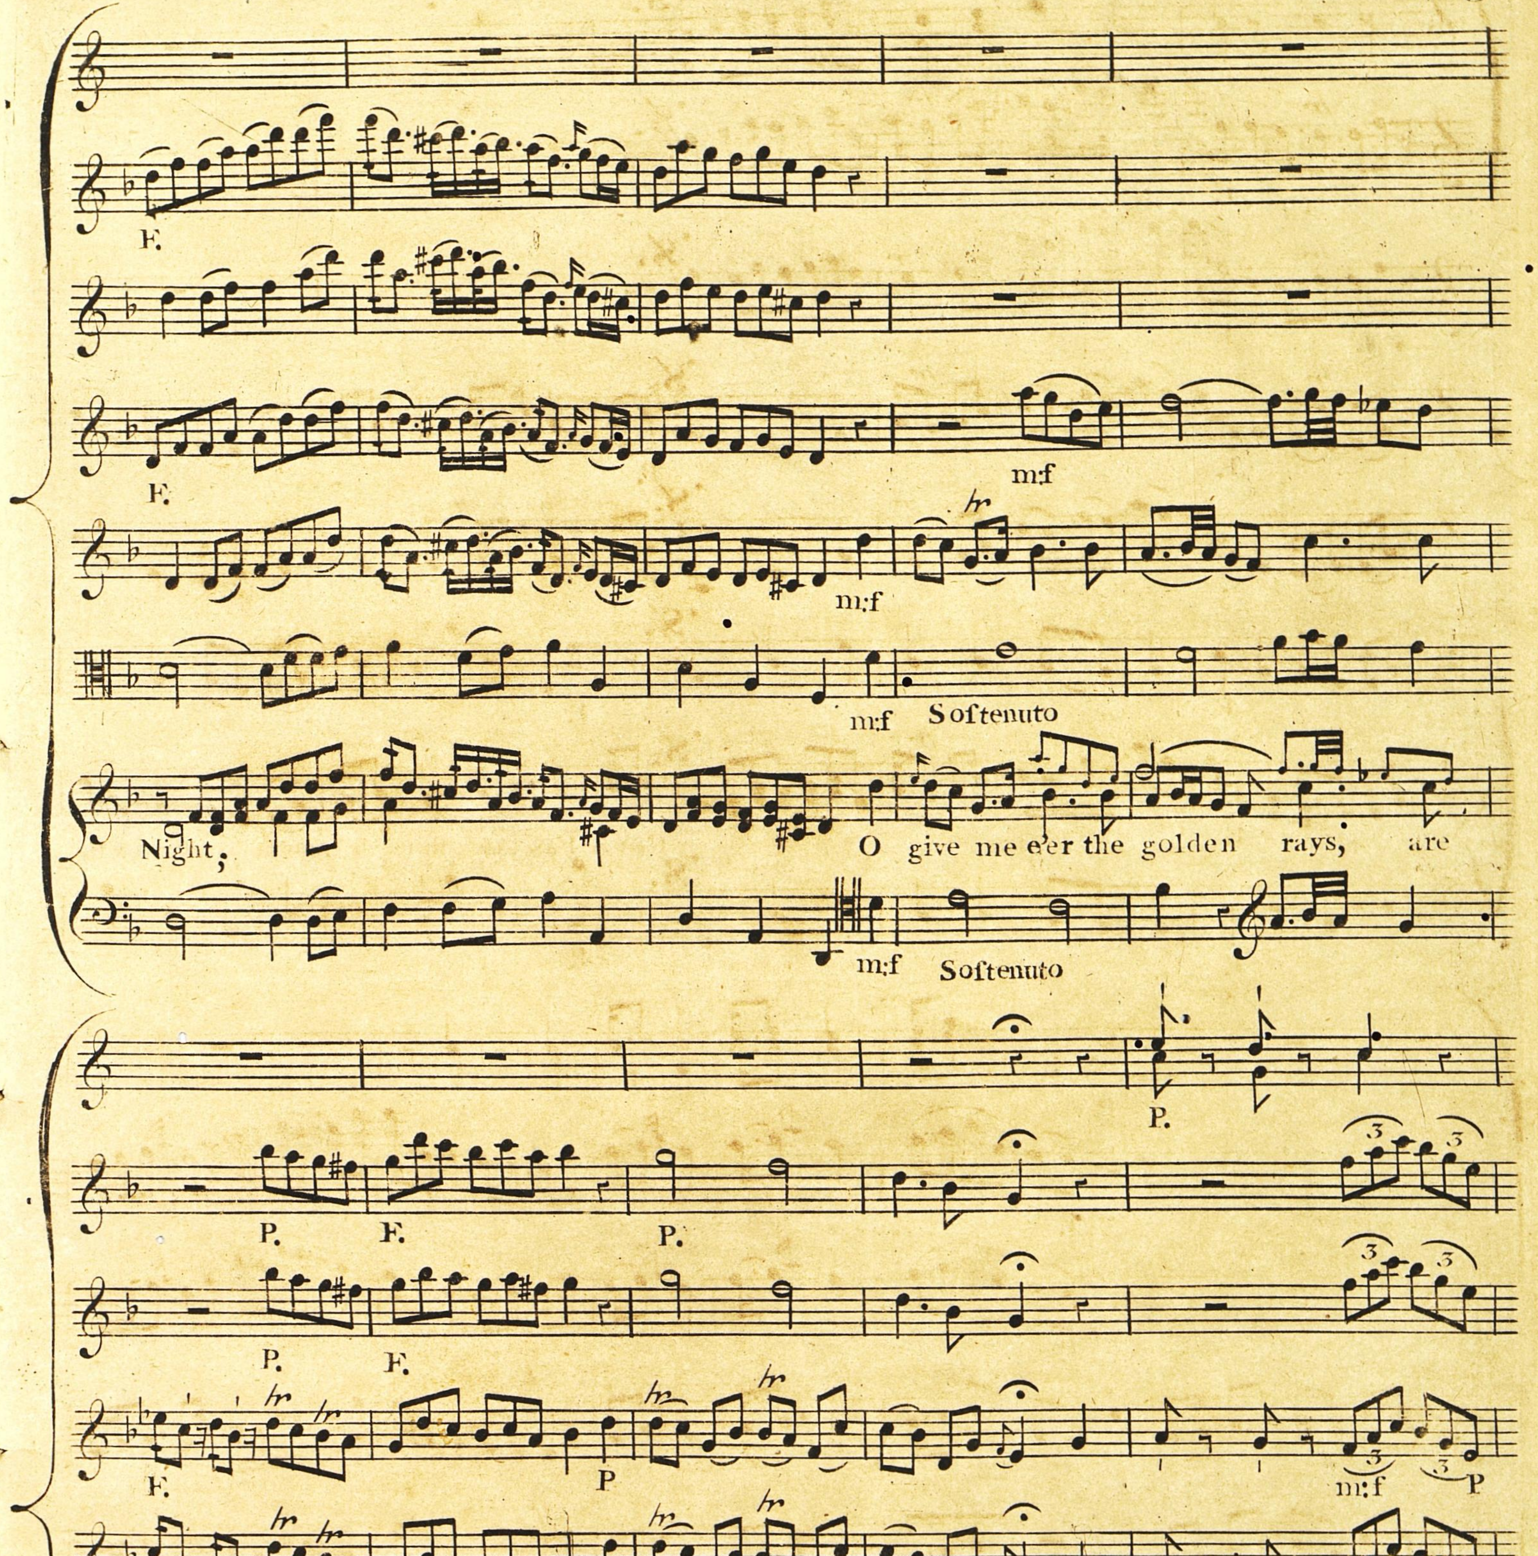
London: Printed by Longman and Broderip No. 26 Cheapſide
Muſic Sellers to the Royal Family.

NB. Finger and Barrell Organs, Harpſicords, Piano Fortes, and Spinnets &c. Manufactured and Sold on the moſt reaſonable terms, on Conditions of Exchange if not approved, alſo Harpſicords, Piano Fortes, and Spinnets bought Exchang'd and Lent out by the Month, Quarter or Year, and tuned in Town and Country by the Year Quarter or per time on the ſhorteſt Notice.





Come Fan-cy thou who can'st re-gain what
Time with impi-ous Flight mif-deems her own and tries in vain, To veil- in end-lefs



Softenuto
Night, O give me e'er the golden rays, are Softenuto
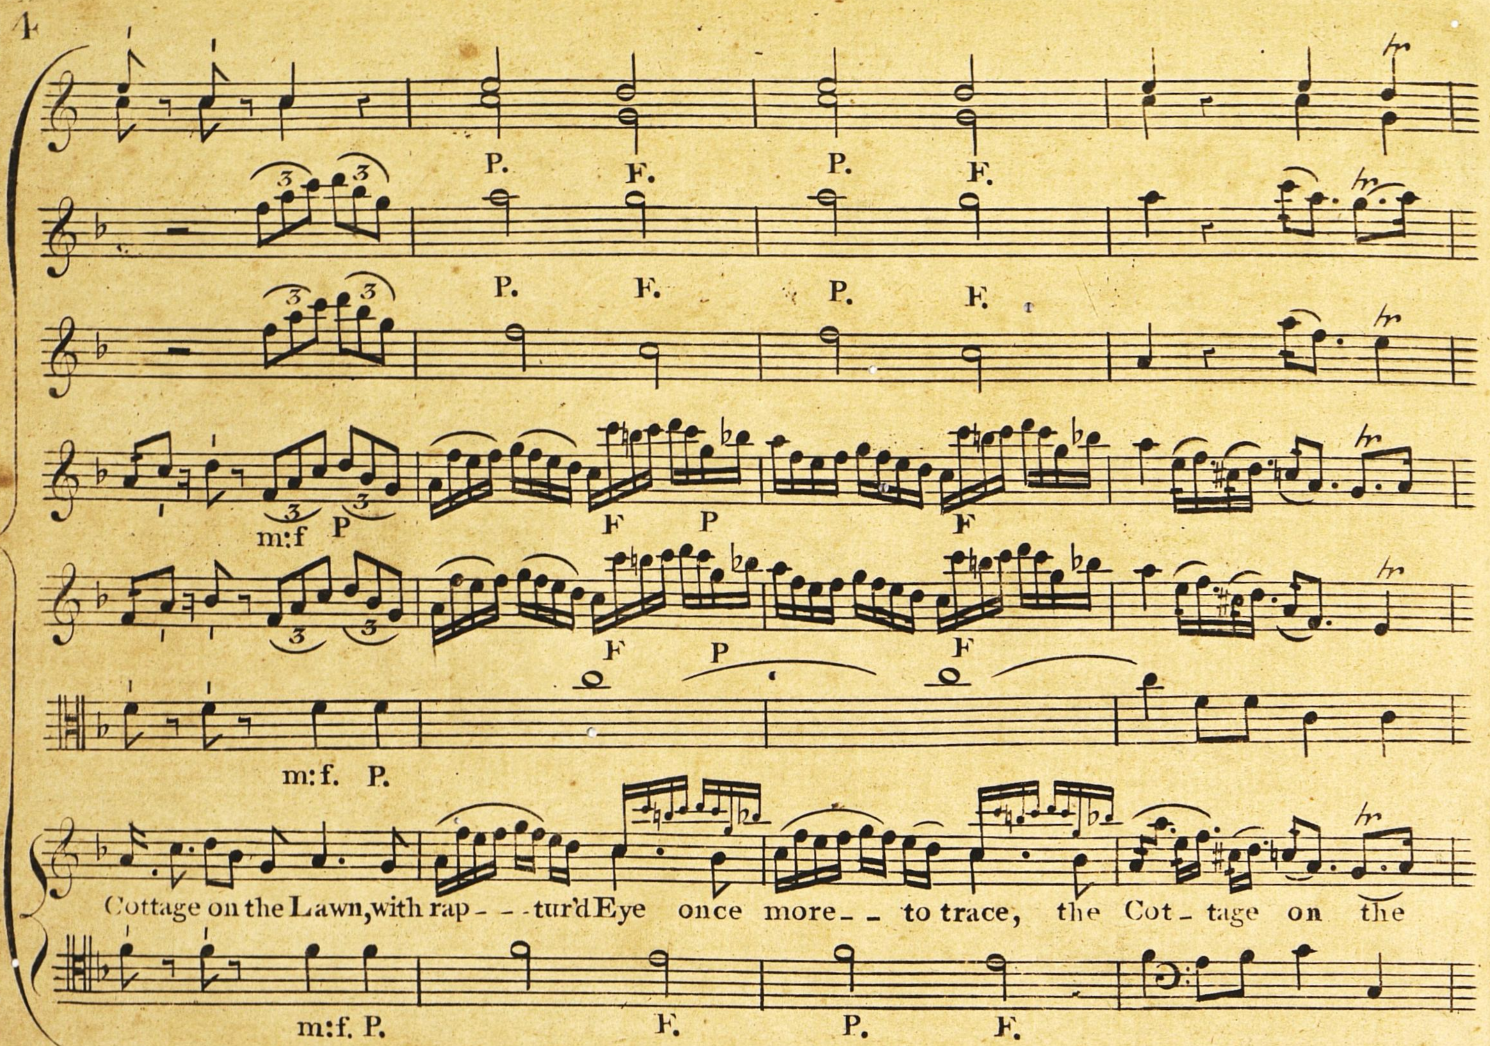
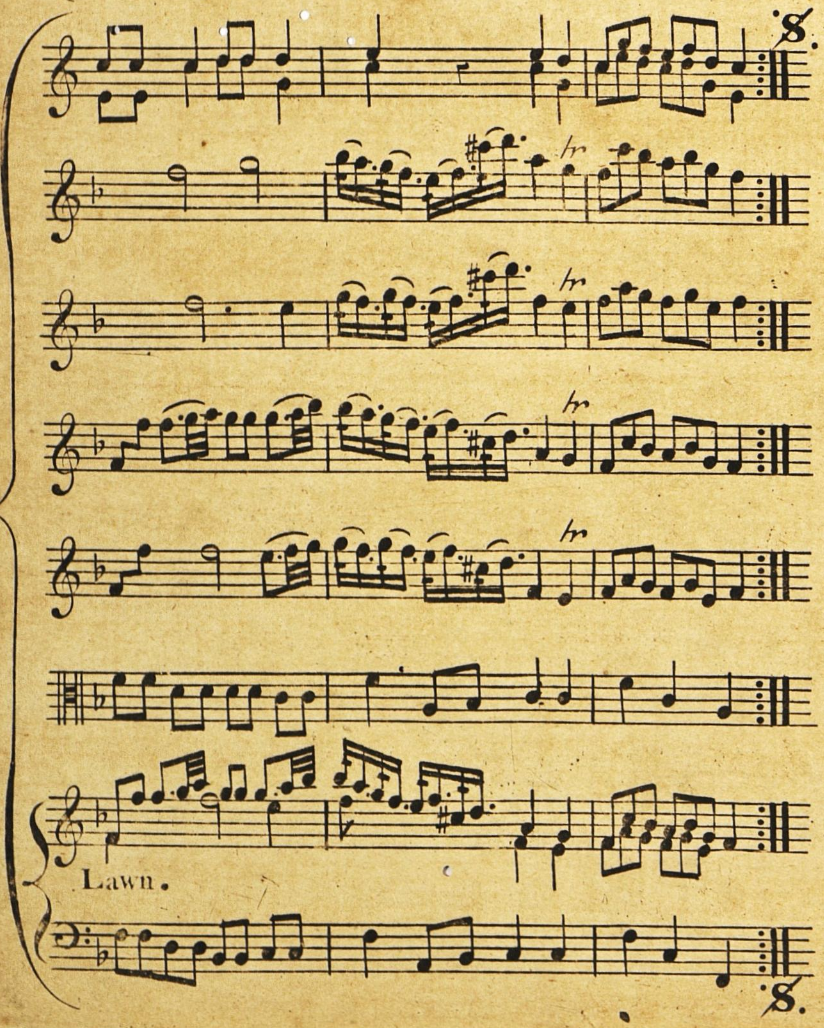
from the Sky with drawn, with rap_tur'd Eye once more to trace, the Cottage on the Lawn, the





2

There Friendfhip, Love, the Ev'ning crown'd,
There hail'd the rifing day,
The brook, the meadow fmil'd around,
And all was fweet and gay:
Within yon Grove the feather'd race
Make vocal, Eve and dawn,
And in their carrols feem to praife
The Cottage on the Lawn.

3

O from my mind thofe happy fcenes
May no Ideas chace,
Ambition and his golden dreams
Would ill fupply the place;
The charms that Pow'r or wealth convey,
From me be all withdrawn;
So I may chaunt in humble lay,
The Cottage on the Lawn.